Was "Personal Feeling."

"His action in recommending to the President, over the head of his superior officer, Secretary Shaw, that my resignation be asked for, could only have been prompted by personal feeling against me, or he has been misled by designing enemies of mine, because about the same time he was making his recommendation to the President an official letter was retime he was making in the tree was re-telled by me, dated July 24, 1995, as the result of examination of my office, and the same was rated by said letter as months. Both of these fetters come from the office of the commissioner of internal revenue and are dated April 25th and July 24th, 1905. The latest of these two letters, both of them written by Robert Williams, acting commissioner of internal revenue, is as follows:

"Your office was examined on the 13th instant by Revenue Agent S. D. Amen, who reports that the lists, stamps and cash accounts of the office were in balance, the records neatly kept and posted to date, the offices of the stamp deputies in balance and in good condition, bonds examined and found in accordance with regulations, monthly reports satisfactory and the office in good condition.

"The grade of your office is fixed at No. 1."

It's said by others than Captain Royrs, that when Commissioner Terkes was sked for some explanation of this sudden and unexplained action he finally dimitted that he had caused the letter of the written himself, but he vouchsafed to further statement on the subject. As urther evidence that Commissioner Terkes has assumed responsibility in this natter. Secretary Shaw stated at Roacoke that he was as much surprised as captain Rogers himself, when he learned hat a letter had been written asking or the resignation of the collector. This etter was written by the president's sectery, and as usual with such communications begins, "3y direction of the resident," etc.

Wants to Know the Cause.

Wants to Know the Cause.

Captain Rogers naturally feels that he is entitled to know the cause of this remarkable action by the commissioner, and is not content to necept a rumor that "unbusiness-like conduct of the affairs of the office" or "insufficiency" are the causes of this peremptory request for his resignation. The two letters from revenue agents, both issued from the office of Commissioner Yerkes himself and signed by the acting commissioner, put it "up to" the commissioner to explain his action in the face of those utterly inconsistent letters written officially.

Some months ago political enemies of cally.

Some months ago political enemies of the collector sought to displace him, and for weeks it was rumored that he would be superseded. After many trips to Washington and strong endorsements of the collector, the effort to oust him was effectually overthrown, and the collector renewed his official bond and began what was regarded as another term.

The action of the President in the case of Collector Rogers is believed to be a parallel to that in the case of Marshal Treat, whom he wubsequently reappointed, Whether or not there is some favorite of the commissioner or the President to be provided for cannot be stated. So far as known here, Commissioner Yerkes is glone responsible. If he has acted on the advice of or by reason of surreptitious charges filed by some person or persons unknown, he has given the collector no oportunity to answer his critics, it is expected that the entire matter will be investigated and that Captain Rogers will be exonerated from any intimations of unbusiness-like conduct of the office or of incompetency. It is even possible that the President may revurse himself, as he did in Mr. Treat's case.

The letter of the President, by his secretary, was received by Captain Rogers on August 1st, and was probably answered a day or two later. The collector is still in charge of the office, and will probably remain so until relieved officially or superseded by some other man.

There are or have been many applicants for the place for months past, among them Mr. Otis H. Russell, ex-postmaster; Mr. Edgar Allan, Jr., Mr. R. O. Deyer and others from other cities. Speculation has already begun as to the successorship but this will depend largely upon the recommendation of Congressman Slemp and the patronage committee.

If not, there is little expectation that

Richmond can offer satisfactory terms. If not, there is little expectation that the smaller city will solicit the larger to incorporate her.

It is pointed out that Manchester has gained considerably in recent years; that the city is now growing fast, and that business interests have increased very largely. Manchester has every requisite shipping facility; the town is surrounded by a network of railroads, and industrially Manchester is to-day ahead of her sister city. She has offered many inducements, and a smaller rate of taxes than obtain in Richmond to new industries, and she can afford better and more convenient sites. Factories are everywhere in evidence, and the Council is now in communication with others who wish to establish plants here.

Manchester citizens, it is said, have awakened to the fact of their city's preeminence over Richmond in these particulars, and for this reason will wait to see what further advantages Richmond can offer in the annexation scheme before she herself will take any active step.

It is understood that the manufacturing plants will make a fight against annexation, because many of them came to Manchester from Richmond to avoid the higher rate of taxation of the larger city. But, on the other hand, it seems to be the concensus that the majority of the citizens are in favor of the scheme.

The City Council will meet to-night when a committee from the City Council of Richmond will appear in behalf of the proposed consolidation of the two cities. A committee will be appointed to confer with the Richmond delegation as to be submitted to the people.

prison at Elmira, N.-Y. He was held there until the close of the war.

After farming some years in his native county, Mr. Archer came to this city and was engaged in the retail grocery business for a number of years with Mr. James B. Kidd, and he subsequently, in partnership with the late John Booker, conducted the retail grocery firm of Archer & Booker, later on, after the death of Mr. Booker, carrying on the business in his own name. For a number of years after this he was in charge of the Davis photograph gallery.

He was in his sixtleth year.

In his industrious business and social life in this city and elsewhere he had made in large circle of friends, and it is no exaggergation to say that he held every friend he made. He maintained a close adherence to his ideals of true and high manhood and they were such as could only win approval of whoever knew him well. Since early manhood he had been an earnest member of the Episcopai Church. The death of his only daughter over a year ago gave him a shock from which he never fully recovered. His serious illness dated from that period.

Mr. Archer married Mrs. Marie Davis Stein, of this city. She, with a stepson. Mr. Joseph Stein, and a brother, Mr. E. M. Archer, survive him.
